Professor Puffendorf and Chip are having tea when an alarm sounds in the room.

"Evacuate immediately! Critical danger! Special machine overheated!"

Then Professor Puffendorf asks Chip:

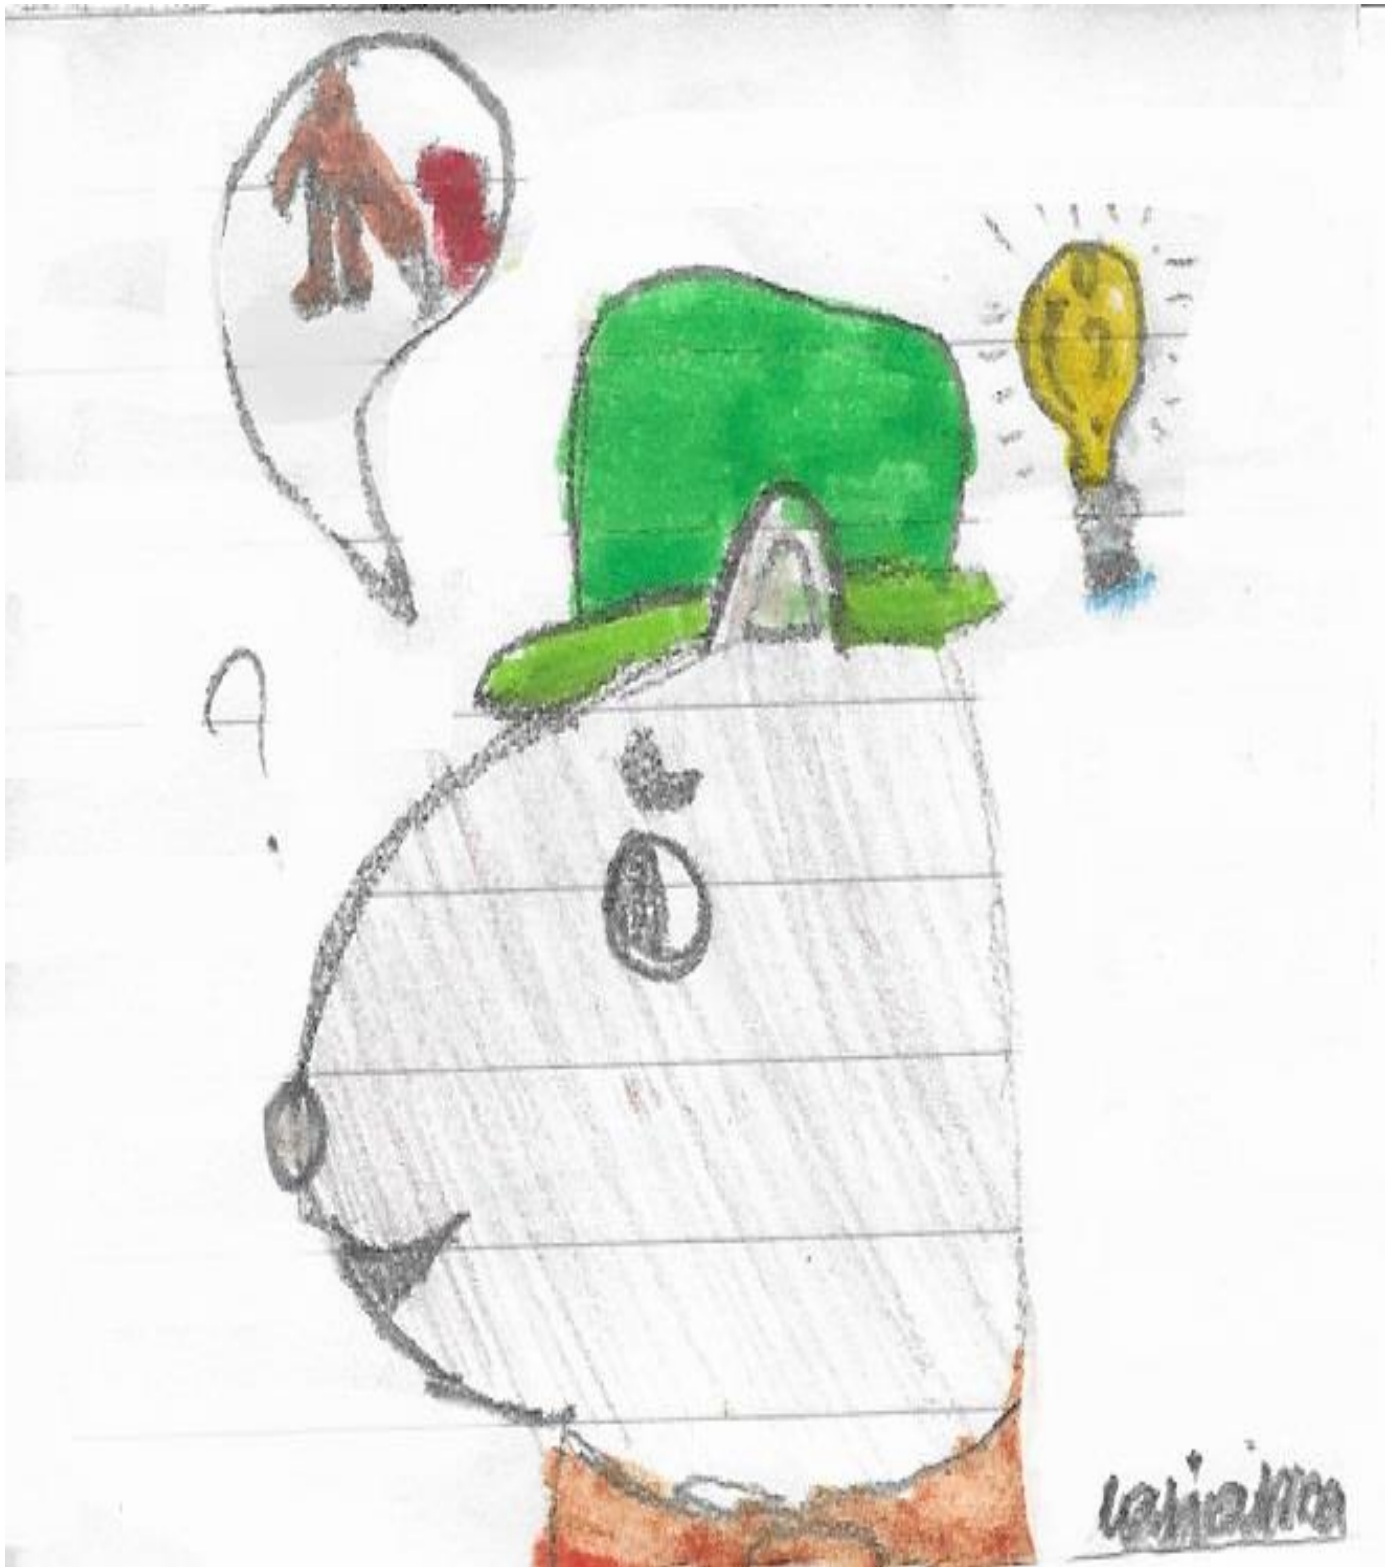

"Are you sure you switched the special machine off?"

"Yes, I did!" says Chip.

"We're probably too late. The machine has already overheated."

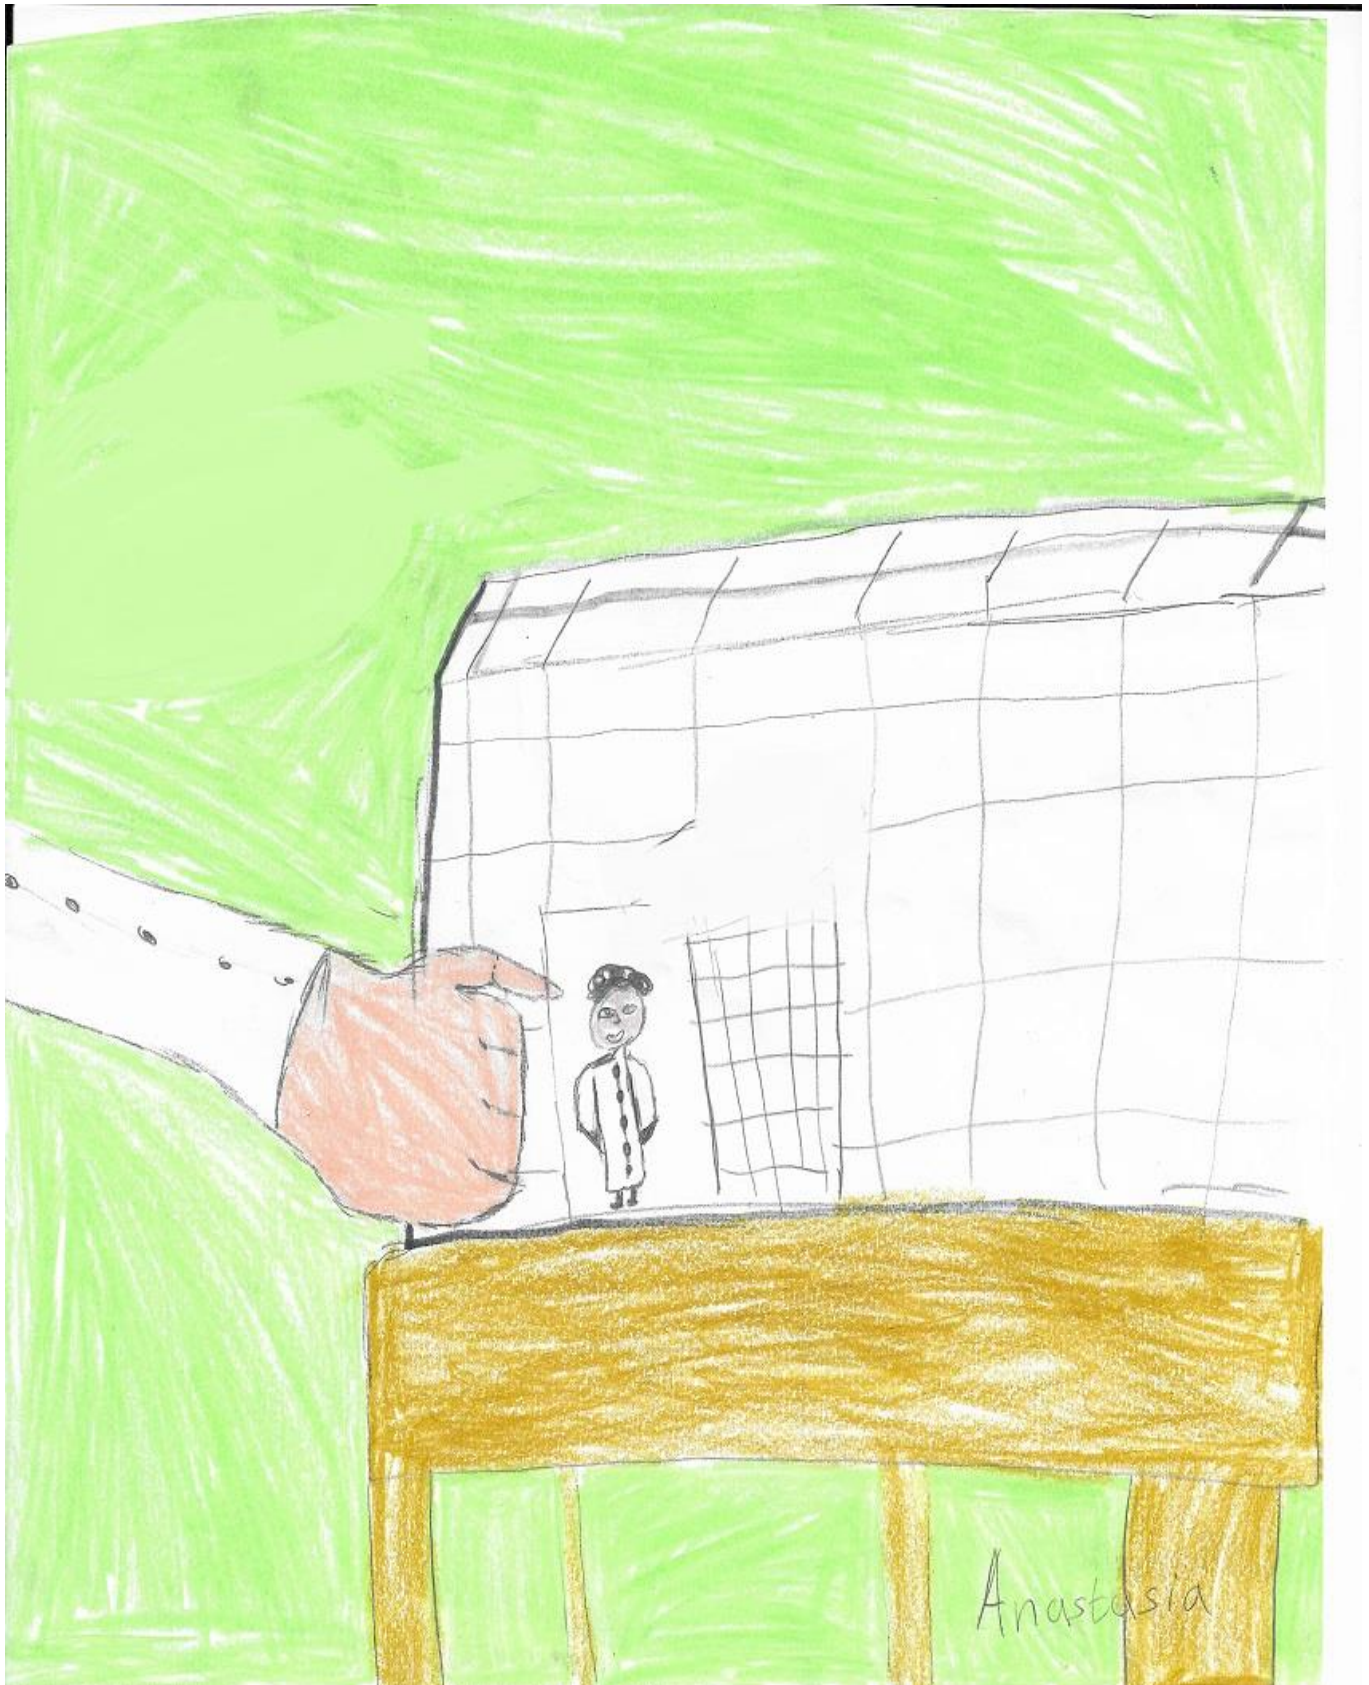

"I have the yellow and blue potions with me, which will help us solve this. The only problem is that the machine can be fixed by someone who is guinea-pig-sized."

Chip says: "Why don't we go out and call the firemen?"

"We can't! Little Enzo has the keys and now they are too small!"

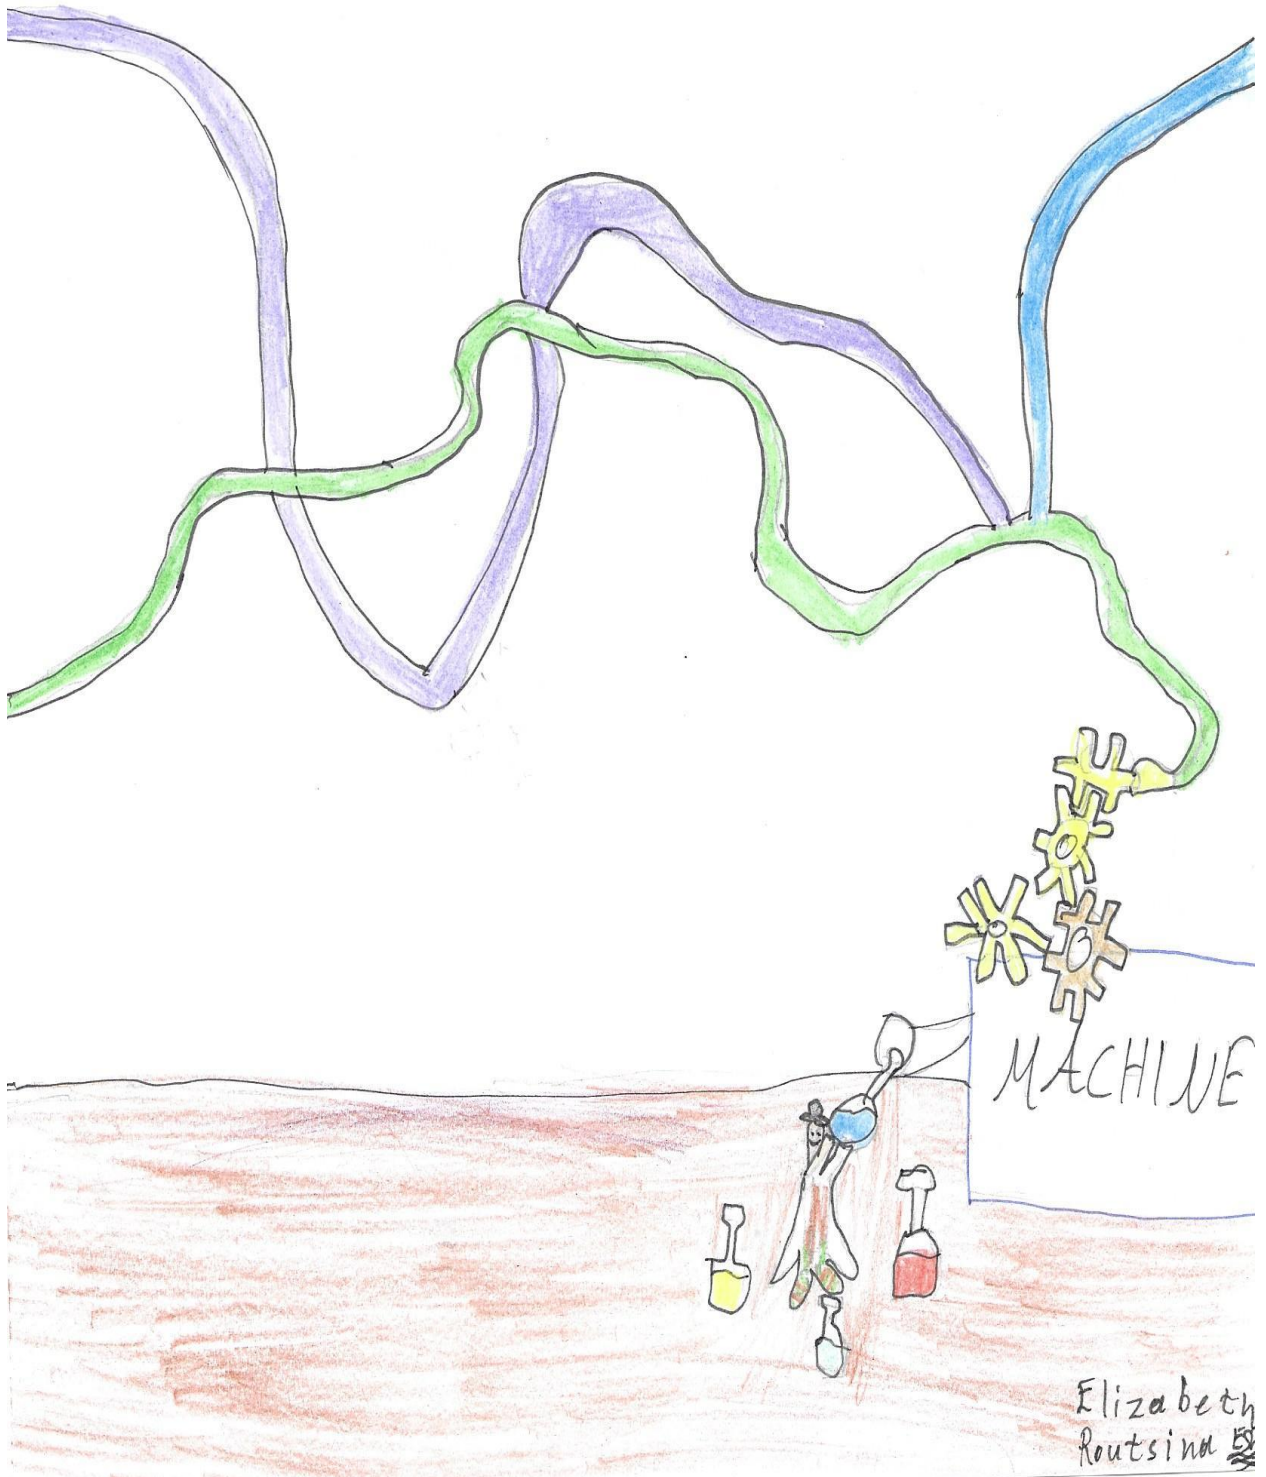

Suddenly, Enzo says: "I can help! I'm guinea-pig-sized!"

Then, Professor Puffendorf lets him out.

"Do not betray us." she says. "If you do, you'll be small forever!"

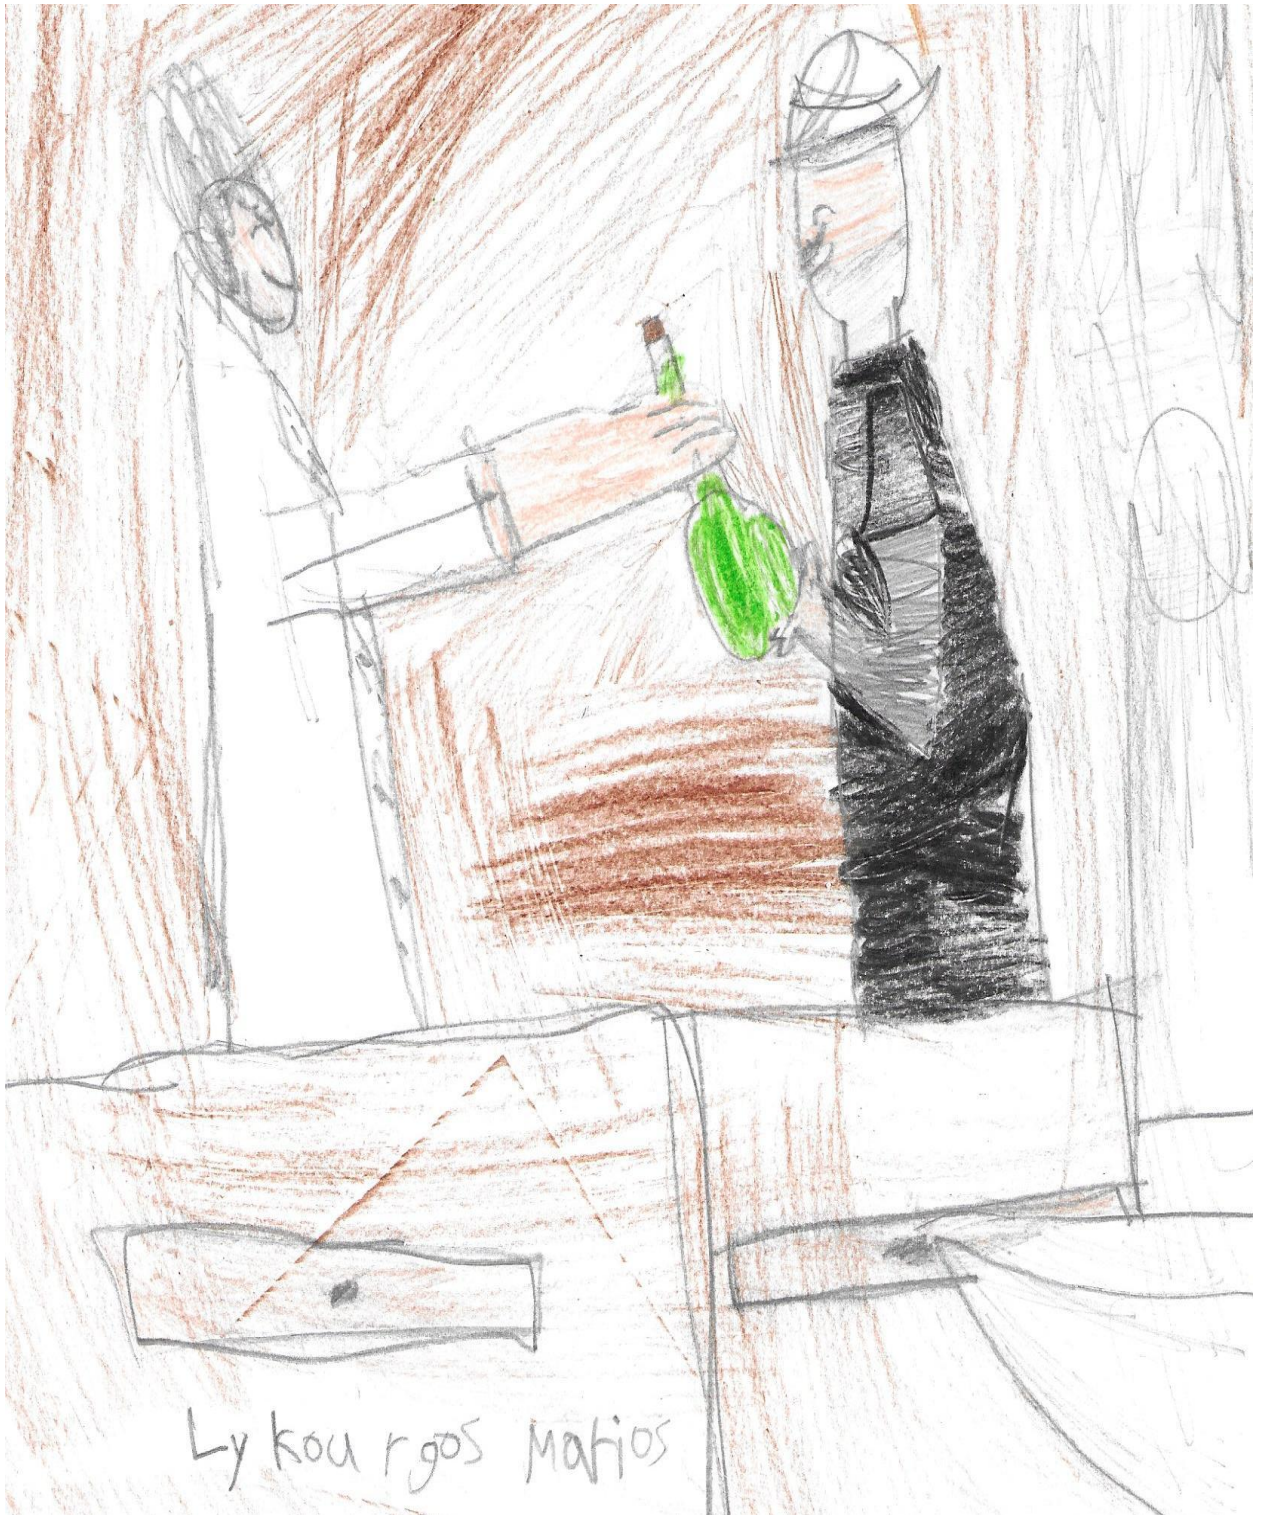

"I'll do it right, I promise." he says.

Enzo approaches the machine slowly. He puts the bottles on the machine ...

IT WORKS!!! The machine works again!

"Thank you very much Enzo!" says Professor Puffendorf and gives him a potion that says "giant size".

"Do you want to be very big? Drink seven drops and count to five."

Enzo drinks seven drops and counts to five.
One...Two...Three...Four...Five...

IT WORKS!!! Enzo's big again and the three of them live happily ever after!

THE END

While having tea Professor Puffendorf and Chip hear a strong noise. The machine has overheated! Who will help them? They need someone who is the size of a guinea pig and the only one is Enzo. Professor Puffendorf is afraid Enzo will betray them but she can't do anything else. She has to trust him. Will Enzo keep his promise?
